

October 27, 2009

2 Hunterdon County Women to Receive BWCF Scholarship Jill Davis and Teresa Eggers

Clinton Township, NJ – Two Hunterdon County women are one step closer to achieving their dream of becoming business owners, thanks to The Business Women's Charitable Foundation (BWCF) scholarship awards program. After meeting a selected list of criteria, Jill Davis of Port Murray and Teresa Eggers of Belvidere has received $1000.00 scholarship awards to be applied to becoming a first time entrepreneur. The funds will help each of them bring their life experience, passion, creativity and business management skills together to make their dream of business ownership a reality.

Jill Davis' business concept includes providing homeowners facing foreclosures on their homes an alternative to foreclosure and negatively affecting their credit. Amazing House Help, LLC will buy homes, and then find new buyers, therefore preserving homeowner's credit allowing them a fresh new start. Since 2006, Jill has taken extensive real estate classes and attended prestigious institutes such as Trump University, Enlightened Wealth University, Applied Education and Prosperity Alliance.

Teresa Eggers' is bringing her passion and 12 years experience in real estate to her new business - New Creation Home Staging. Her target market will be home sellers who want to save time and money and sell their homes quickly. Teresa will stage scenes throughout a home to create immediate buyer interest in the property and get the highest possible price for their home.

"We had quite a number of women request applications for the scholarship and our original intent was to choose just one," says Katherine Mehner, president of BWCF. "However, we were very impressed with these two women, and were able to help them both get a good start at business ownership," she added.

Last year's recipients are thriving business owners today. Dana Lane's owns Dana Lane Photography. She sells her art prints, cards, commission pieces and is working on a photography book with a focus on people and spirituality. Her website is www.danalanephotography.com. Deborah Lavine's business, Pie Crust Designs is also doing well. You'll find her selling many fashionable hand knit, hand-spun wool and alpaca and hats for men, women and children at local craft shows. She can be reached at Deborah@piecrustdesigns.com.

Business Women's Charitable Foundation is an organization made up of women business owners in Hunterdon County who host local fundraising events to raise funds for local causes, with a specific emphasis on helping women in Central Jersey.

Along with the scholarship money, members of the Business Women's Charitable Foundation will provide the award recipients consulting services ranging from business coaching, marketing and public relations support.

The BWCF's next fundraiser will be a large Bunko party and is scheduled for January 21st at the Hawke Point Country Club. The proceeds will benefit an organization for young cancer survivors called Beyond Boobs (www.beyondboobsinc.com).

For more information about The Business Women's Charitable Foundation visit our website at (www.BizWomenCharity.com) or call president Katherine Mehner at (908) 236-0025.